Q1 Rate how much you prefer the Traditional Usage package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text If traditional means investing in highways only, a necessary change is to undo some of the damage we did and are doing to the communities. This funding cannot be used for widening highways and thereby increasing traffic. It must be used to put highways underground and reconnect communities and lands.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 5

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text Apply the same restrictions to the highway funding portion but also invest it in shared infrastructure. Meaning let's fix the roads used by everyone not just those used by cars only.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 2

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text I would argue in most cases this means a mode shift. It is important to draw the right conclusions from traffic studies. Widening a road is almost never leading to the intended goal.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 2

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Transit determines development. Therefore, if we want effective transit (and the more affordable living -- $10,000 minimum after tax) that it will provide, we need to build it before the sprawl rather than after.

I support the Mode Shift scenario because the plan includes more projects for bike and sidewalk. We have some roads with bike lanes that used to be 4 lanes and now are 2 with bike lanes. People are riding bikes more and cars are going slower (no longer going 45 in a 35 zone!!) Lots of families using the sidewalk and bike lanes.

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

I would prefer to see fewer highway expansion and road widening projects, except to add additional bike or pedestrian infrastructure. Adding additional lanes to roads doesn't ultimately reduce congestion, because when a road gets more convenient, more people opt to drive on it, leaving us back where we started but at a cost of millions of dollars. Wiser roads also make me feel less safe as a pedestrian, because cars tend to drive faster on them and do risky maneuvers to swerve around each other, and they're less likely to notice a pedestrian starting a walk across from a different lane than the one they're currently driving in. There are many places only a few blocks from me that I would never dream of walking to because I don't feel safe crossing a wide road that stands in the way.

I appreciate the pedestrian, bike, and public transit infrastructure in this plan, and would like to see that even further expanded. Those are my preferred methods of getting around the city, but they're not always available. I especially appreciate the expansion of BRT.

Long Text Based on the chart, it's difficult to understand what kind of impact while actually apply. Just because the impact is broader doesn't mean it's positive. This is the highest amount of funding allocated to highway and the project scoring numbers seem the most scattered of the options so far.

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text In general, I'd argue for a higher portion of funds going to transit and bike and pedestrian uses. The biggest specific thing missing for me is the West End South BRT that other packages have. It would be a massive quality of life improvement to have BRT go through my neighborhood. Many park and ride projects are missing from this package. It would also be nice to have bike lanes extend the full length of Lombardy between Broad and Chamberlayne instead of the current piecemeal lanes.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 5

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text I think that the Mode Shift planning scenario is the best option of the four. However, I am disappointed to see a high number of road widening projects and highway capacity expansion projects included in this planning scenario.

Because of the phenomena of induced demand, increasing road capacity directly contradicts the goals of this plan -- shifting transportation modes.

Instead, I think that the 'Highway' funds included in this plan should be directed towards pedestrian facilities and safety improvement (like roundabouts) on existing roads. As someone who uses a bike as their primary mode of transportation, I don't feel safe biking on wide roads that encourage speeding.

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text I would remove all highway projects. It is disappointing to see the region advance expensive projects locking us further into sprawl and unsustainable development patterns that mean everything will be far and inconvenient to get to.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 2

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text I would use the leftover funds on bike/ped instead of highway. The region has no bicycle or pedestrian network - it is disconnected and even scary walking around parts of downtown where people speed directly off the expressway with nothing forcing them to drive around people safer. Highway projects scoring 'high' on sustainability makes zero sense. How fossil fuel use for mobility sustainable or resilient?

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text What service level commitments exist for extending BRT out to the suburbs? These investments will be meaningless if GRTC won't be able to provide frequency under every 15 minutes. I would like to see more bike/ped projects on the map.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text Seeing the projects in this package, I do not have faith in the 'cost effective' metric. New road extensions in the exurbs are cost effective? Road widening and sprawl increase costs for the counties to provide utilities and other services. The cost-benefit of new shared use paths makes sense to me for helping people live healthier lifestyles, but seeing projects like Powhite Parkway which somehow scores high on sustainability while resulting in habitat loss, increased pollution, noise pollution, and isolate nondrivers by expanding into nature gives me little faith in the analysis that led to this package.

Long Text

"Traditional" here means status quo, which is unacceptable. We've known for decades now that the only solution to traffic is viable alternatives to driving. Continued highway expansion will continue to put us deeper into debt (economical and ecological), while only serving to continue induced demand and suburban sprawl. This will only makes thing more expensive with worse health outcomes for everyone in the greater Richmond metro area.

This has failed to work for decades, and will continue to fail going forward. I strongly denounce this as an acceptable vision of the future for our region.

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text

This is /better/ than A, but that is an exceedingly low bar. I find it quite dispiriting that from the get-go it already prioritizes highways. But then this caveat is included,

"However, because some transit projects require large investments and cannot be partially funded, remaining funds that cannot fully cover those are used for highway, resulting in a final distribution closer to 60% highway and 40% other modes."

If anything, if B is going to be the methodology used: Its logic should be inverted. That is, "Remaining fund that cannot fully cover those are used for other modes, resulting in a final distribution closer to 60% other modes and 40% highway."

Other modes must be prioritized over highway expansion.

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text

This sounds conceptually nice (i.e. the prioritization of regional goals), but the proposal seems disastrous in effect. I'm not sure why our "regional goals" prioritize highways to such a large extent.

I would've thought that as we were proactively looking towards a better, brighter, cleaner, more sustainable, more welcoming, and overall better Richmond metro area, we'd realize that our goals need to prioritize other modes of transformation and moving away from unexpensive and unhealthy car-centric infrastructure. In that instance, I'm not sure why "prioritizing goals" has so much money going toward that which we hope to move away from.

As written on the poster, proposal C currently states, "In line for our goals to lose weight this year, we are dedicating 73% of our grocery budget towards ice cream."

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text

Much like C, this /sounds/ nice, but is insane as written. I am unsure how 71.2% of our budget going towards highways is "cost effective" when we know that they are more expensive to build, more expensive to maintain, increase traffic, increase death (acute and chronic), lower quality of life, make people unhappy, and is overall ugly to look at.

I question what method of accounting is being used when we consider highway expansion to be remotely "cost effective" when it is more expensive in the short and long term, and makes us more miserable along the way.

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text I don't like this package because it prioritizes highway projects. I don't want so much money going to highway projects. We already have a ton of historical investment in highways and roads. We need to reinvest in trains and transit. We need to empower people to feel safe and comfortable using more sustainable and efficient and healthy modes of mobility, like biking and walking.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 3

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text This is a much much better approach than the Traditional. However, still too much money is dedicated to highway funding. I think I understand the point about large transit projects can't be partially funding. But I DON'T understand why that money has to automatically go back to highways. Please contribute that money to bike/ped projects, which are more affordable AND cost efficient and sustainable and healthy than highway projects. (Plus, if transit problems are too expensive to be fully funded, wouldn't highway projects be even more expensive and unfundable?)

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 3

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text What is the criteria and scoring for determining benefits? Did we look at the health benefits that biking produces as a form of cardio exercise? Did we look at the environmental benefits that non-highway projects produce by reducing carbon emissions and fossil fuel extraction? Did we examine economic benefits of diversifying our mobility options and reducing our dependence on oil, especially as we start to feel the pinch with rising gas prices due to the USA/Israel/Iran conflict? Did we look at the safety benefits of separating pedestrian traffic from vehicle traffic, thus saving lives and reducing injuries and medical bills? Did we look at the longterm cost savings of time wasted in traffic, or reductions in time spent commuting? I know these are hard to quantify. But even just recognizing the benefits is important, even if they can't be estimated in exact dollar amounts.

Long Text This input may not be what you want, but basically I wish we did more incremental improvements to our existing transportation network to support the gradual growth of the areas closest to the urban core of our region, rather than greenfield sprawl which is prioritized in these road projects.

From this same "improve what we have" ideology, the bus investments proposed here are silly at best - there is currently zero bus service on Mechanicsville Turnpike, while the GRTC Route 12 is crowded and runs infrequently connecting 4 public housing developments in the East End. What if our BRT proposals were aligned with our existing ridership? The N-S Pulse fits that criterion - the existing bus line on this route is GRTC's busiest. Look at page 2-44 of this report and focus transit investments based on this data: <https://drpt.virginia.gov/wp-content/uploads/2024/10/GRTC-TSP-Updated-2024.pdf>

The exception is bold projects like the Fall Line Trail that will dramatically help existing residents

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 5

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text I would take out the proposed highway capacity expansions. These do not need to be funded at such a high rate. The more highway capacity projects included, means that taking other modes of transportation (bike/bus) are more difficult and dangerous.

Due to health conditions I cannot safely drive, so I rely on walking, biking, and taking the bus to get around. The more car capacity on the roads mean that it is more dangerous and difficult for me to get around, meaning that tasks as seemingly easy getting to work or the grocery store are ever more difficult. This experience with difficulty getting around is not unique. Almost 1 in 3 people in the region have a disability.

Projects I'd specifically suggest getting rid of in this scenario are:

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text We have had decades of heavily funding highways and car infrastructure and look where that got us. It's time to look at other successful cities, New York, Paris, etc and deprioritize cars in favor of public transit, bikes, and pedestrians

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text So highway spending goes up? So we put more cars on I95 and induce even more demand, which we will only have to pay more for in the next couple years? More sitting in traffic and less safe streets and roadways? Even less money towards bikeped infrastructure? Is the goal to make the city way worse?

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 2

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text I'm not really understanding how >70% highway spending is "bang for your buck". That feels disingenuous. Getting people onto bikes and public transportation means fewer cars on the roads, fewer traffic fatalities, less pollution, better health outcomes, more economic activity because of a lower need for surface parking. How does massive highway funding at the expense of everything else help much of anything? I like the idea of cost effectiveness, but to me that means more bus routes, better and more protected bike lanes etc. (All of which could be done in a fraction of the time and cost to doing something stupid like adding another lane to some highway somewhere, which won't improve traffic after 6 months)

Given the dire need for parking (see Scott's Addition), the cost of gas, and the increasing population, a more "Netherlands" view of movement around a city (e.g. by bike or one's own locomotion) will benefit both drivers and non-drivers alike while building community and supporting local business.

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text While we need to maintain existing infrastructure, I wish to see more pedestrian, bike and better accessible public transportation. The population f RVA and surrounding area are only going to grow and continuing the "traditional" balance is only going to grow automotive transportation infrastructure which has its place, but makes all other forms of transportation harder to utilize as well as less and less safe. In short we need the transportation infrastructure of tomorrow, not yesterday.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 3

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text This is probably the compromising or bridge to shifting the focus of transportation investment from almost purely car based to other forms of transportation. I am much more comfortable seeing this shift than the "traditional" model. However, I implore decision makers to know that even dedicated car users have to interface with alternative forms of transportation, often having to walk from parking areas through trafficked areas to access their destination. Just because you rely on a car, does not mean you do not use other modes of travel. Given the increased dangers to pedestrians that our current infrastructure and behaviors causes, it is important to point towards the infrastructure we need vs what we can tolerate.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text This looks like going backwards to me, and sounds the same. Maybe great for supporting suburban use of the downtown area, but what does it doe for reducing congestion and making the downtown (cityscape) safer for residents, users and workers. This plan seems myopic, and the name is a joke. This does not appear to transform much in its allocation of funds except to prop up existing infrastructure.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text I feel similarly to this as I did for "transformative", this is not aspirational planning. I realize the irony in that this plan's name is "cost effective". This is capitulation in planning. Think bigger, think outside the moment. Think of all those that have lost their lives to the short sighted planning that has led to ill fitting transportation infrastructure.

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text Since traditional usage is to continue to widen roads and bridges with little accommodations for pedestrians, I would be against continuing as we have. At a minimum, all traditional highway "upgrades" should include bike and pedestrian facilities with multiple safe signalized crossings. All new or improved bridges should also have bicycle and pedestrian facilities.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 5

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text I would fund a study to investigate how funding for transit can be fully spent. All funds that must go to 'highways' should be spent on bike/ped accommodations and no extensions to low density suburbs that add to sprawl and defy regular bus service.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text Because larger projects favor automobiles and do not help create the finer grid benefits, I would not be in favor of this. If instead, bicycle and pedestrian facilities and connections to multiple transit stops along long corridors would count as one large project, this might work, but it otherwise seems very doubtful.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 5

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text I would like to see additional emphasis on sustainability. I would also like to see additional emphasis on bike and pedestrian safety.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text This does not allocate enough funding to transit or to bike and pedestrian. There is far too much funding allocated to highways.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 2

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text This option does not provide enough investment in transit which is the most efficient and effective modality for moving people. Bike and pedestrian infrastructure similarly are low-cost due to lower maintenance and operating costs.

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text This is my favorite—I would just like for extra money that can't be spent on big transit projects to go to smaller transit projects or bike/ped instead of being added to highways.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text More bike/ped projects—they can be transformative too, like the Fall Line Trail. Some transformative projects are great, like BRT, but a lot of great change can happen incrementally.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 3

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text More bike/ped/transit projects and less highway projects. When you take into account all the negative externalities and costs associated with highways, I'm skeptical that these projects are more cost-effective.

Q1 Rate how much you prefer the Traditional Usage package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text Continuing to invest the majority of resources in the most lethal, most polluting, least efficient method of transportation is stupid. This package wastes resources and makes our problems worse in the short and long term. I would appreciate a far greater proportion of funds go to transit and bike/ped projects as opposed to highway projects that expand current and future car dependency.

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 5

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text This is a far better plan for the future efficiency, sustainability, and vitality of our region's transportation network. I would still make a change. Funds that do not cover the entirety of transit projects ought to be reallocated towards bike/ped projects. Trickle the resources down, don't yank them back up.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Long Text This allocates far too many resources into highway projects. Connect the region via bike/ped and transit. Highway projects should not make up more than 50% of spending. These projects are investments guaranteeing future problems, costs, inefficiencies, and polluted air and waterways.

Q7 Rate how much you prefer the Cost Effective package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q2 What would you add or change in the Traditional Usage package?

Long Text It spends an enormous amount of money to benefit the fewest and the wealthiest (those who can afford cars, usually those who can afford multiple cars per household).

Q3 Rate how much you prefer the Mode Shift package from 1-5 stars

Rating 3

Q4 What would you add or change in the Mode Shift package?

Long Text Focus on smaller and more highway projects, rather than big ones that don't directly work to address access disparities and just pour money into huge projects benefiting only remote areas.

Q5 Rate how much you prefer the Transformative Benefit package from 1-5 stars

Rating 1

Q6 What would you add or change in the Transformative Benefit package?

Q8 What would you add or change in the Cost Effective package?

Long Text It's still prioritizing cars. It would help to see an environmental justice analysis as part of the weighting for these scores, to see which projects best combine equitable improvements and access with reductions in air pollution for fenceline communities and avoidance of displacement.
