

Planner II- PlanRVA seeks candidate to develop regional plans/studies on transportation & its relationship to the social & built community. Must possess (i)MS in Planning, Public Administration or related (ii)1yr exp in job offered or related (iii) proficient w/effective verbal & written communication skills; manage multiple long term projects; perform literature reviews, web-based & other qualitative research & analysis; research methods, survey & statistical analysis, analytical & data synthesis; principles, methodology, practices of research & data collection & representation, including GIS, Tableau, or other data visualization tools; fundamentals of transportation planning; develop spatial analysis tools & reports using geographic information system software such as ArcGIS to assess impacts from transportation projects on the surrounding community. Working knowledge of: Federal & State (Virginia) funding programs, requirements & performance standards; Foundations of Regional Planning, land use practices & transportation modes consistent w/Virginia Code; Comprehensive planning & programming for Richmond region/metropolitan area, including developing plans/models related to regional transportation network such as the Richmond Regional Travel Demand Model (RTC); Research practices to compile & analyze data needed for planning models, including developing base year socioeconomic data for RTC model & developing jurisdictional population forecast by the cohort-component method; Long-range future year travel forecasts for RTC model & subarea & corridor extractions from RTC model as needed for regional planning studies; Future year regional transportation network planning & deficiency analyses of regional transportation network as the starting point for the development of Richmond region's next LRTP; Local government officials' & partner agencies' needs for output from regional planning models, particularly requests for RTC modeling needed for planning purposes. Will accept MS Equivalent (BS+5yr progressive relevant exp) in listed fields. Job in Richmond, VA area. Full-time/M-F.

Apply by submitting a completed application, resume and cover letter to HR@PlanRVA.org. How to apply instructions and position details available at <https://planrva.org/home/about-the-commission/employment-opportunities/>. EEO