Background

The Central Virginia Transportation (CVTA) is a newly created organization that provides funding opportunities for priority transportation investments across the central Virginia region. This CVTA was established in 2020 by the Virginia General Assembly. The Richmond Regional Transportation Planning Organization (RRTPO), established by the Virginia General Assembly in 2002, serves as a resource for the CVTA through both expert planning advice and staff support.

The CVTA comprises the nine counties and cities located in Planning District 15, which includes the Town of Ashland, the City of Richmond, and the Counties of Charles City, Chesterfield, Goochland, Hanover, Henrico, New Kent and Powhatan. The Commonwealth of Virginia is known for its well-managed and progressive 95 counties and 38 independent cities. The CVTA will administer transportation funding and is directed to review the governance structure of existing transit service in the Richmond region and evaluate the possibility of creating a transportation district.

Our Mission

The purpose of a planning district commission is to encourage and facilitate local government cooperation and state-local cooperation in addressing, on a regional basis, problems of greater than local significance. The cooperation facilitates the recognition and analysis of regional opportunities and takes into consideration regional influences in planning and implementing public policies and services.

Organizational Structure

The CVTA functions like a board of directors, responsible for general policy and decision making with respect to planning, programming and implementation of regional transportation improvements; additionally, it has fiduciary responsibility for revenue transferred to it by the Commonwealth to include compliance with statutory guidance on CVTA and member jurisdictional use of funds.

Key committees:

- Finance Committee. Advises CVTA on all financial matters and oversees CVTA's financial activities.
- Technical Advisory Committee (TAC). Advises and provides recommendations on the development of projects, funding strategies and other matters as directed by CVTA.
- Program Planning Advisory Committee (PCAC). Advises CVTA on broad policy issues related to periodic update of CVTA's Long Range Transportation Plan, with specific consideration to regional transportation, land use and growth issues.

- Jurisdiction and Agency Coordinating Committee (JACC). Advises CVTA on transportation projects and services, regional transportation planning, long-range planning, air quality and legislation; functions as CVTA's lead committee for coordination of regional transportation plans and programs.
- Council of Counsels. Provides legal counsel and advice to CVTA.

Our Communities

The Richmond, Virginia region is located at the midpoint, halfway between New England and Florida, along the East Coast.

Virginia is fortunate to be located at the center of the East Coast economic corridor. The nation's capital, Washington, D.C., is adjacent to Virginia's northeast corner. Richmond, Virginia's state capital, is only 98 miles due south of D.C. (two-hour drive).

The CVTA region area covers 2,165 square miles with a population of approximately 1 million covering the nine member jurisdictions.

Town of Ashland

Ashland is the only incorporated town in the region located in the heart of Hanover County. The town has evolved from a railroad resort to a college town with the relocation of Randolph Macon College to the town in 1868.

Ashland is a community of seven square miles with a population of 7,565. The Town of Ashland is committed to stable growth while preserving the historic district, connecting its residential neighborhoods through a system of parks and trails.

County of Charles City

Charles City County is located east of Richmond and west of Williamsburg, with a southern border on the James River and an eastern border on the Chickahominy River.

Charles City County is a sparsely populated rural haven with a population of 6,773 residents who enjoy the benefits of a rural quality of life with easy access to urban centers and attractions.

County of Chesterfield

Chesterfield County is a rapidly growing suburban community with a population of 364,548.

Situated between the James and Appomattox Rivers, the county has a land area of 437 square miles.

Chesterfield County is the fourth largest county in Virginia with much of the development in the northernmost part of the county.

County of Goochland

Goochland County is located approximately 13 miles west of Richmond, adjacent to Henrico County. The easternmost part of Goochland, complete with infrastructure, is slated for development while the western part is planned to remain rural.

Route 288 along its eastern border provides connection through the West Creek Business Center to I-64. The county is 289 square miles with a population of about 24,727. Goochland offers an excellent quality of life, close to amenities but removed from high densities and traffic.

County of Hanover

Hanover County is a vibrant rural and suburban locality with a population of 109,979 and a land area of 471 square miles.

Hanover includes the incorporated Town of Ashland. The county is located between the Chickahominy and Pamunkey Rivers. Much of the development is oriented to I-95 and I-295, north of Richmond.

County of Henrico

Henrico County is the employment center of the region with a population of 334,389. The Richmond International Airport and Richmond International Raceway, which hosts two major NASCAR races each year, are both located in the county.

The county has a total land area of 245 square miles and wraps around the City of Richmond to the north extending east and west.

County of New Kent

New Kent County is a growing suburbanizing community, located 15 miles east of the City of Richmond.

New Kent County has a population of 22,945 with 212 square miles of land and water. The New Kent County development pattern is shaped by the major interchanges of I-64 as it extends to the east.

County of Powhatan

Powhatan County consists of 270 square miles and has a population of 30,333. Powhatan ranks as one of the fastest growing localities in Virginia.

Development patterns are shaped by US Route 60 and connecting routes of Routes 288 and 522 crossing the James River. Powhatan is dedicated to maintaining an excellent quality of life for its citizens and business community.

City of Richmond

The City of Richmond is the capital of the Commonwealth of Virginia and has a population of 226,610. It serves as a major center for employment and culture for the region.

Located on the James River, Richmond is an independent city with a total land area of 62.5 square miles, bounded by Chesterfield and Henrico Counties.
